Santa, Baby!

Style maven Jason Oliver Nixon has been extra good this year, so he's asking "the big guy" to fill his stocking with a duplex and checks... or at least some of the stash found on these two pages.

THE GREAT ESCAPE

While you present gobs of gifts to everyone else, shouldn't you treat yourself, too? Of course you should. We propose you book a holiday weekend at the wildly divine, just-revamped, hyperdeluxe Casa Marina Resort & Beach Club in Key West, Florida, and pamper you, you, and you. This historic retreat, built back in the day by railroad magnate Henry Morrison Flagler, had once languished, but thanks to LXR Luxury Resorts & Hotels (and its deep pockets) the property shines anew, refreshed with to-die-for contemporary interiors, stunning landscaping, and delectable dining options (like an outpost of Gotham's very own Strip House at the Reach Resort nearby). And, of course, Key West's myriad charms await at the doorstep—from the colorful doings at Mallory Docks to the cool cocktails at La Te Da. (Be sure to pick up a copy of Key West magazine, whose executive editor is none other than former Hamptons staffer Juliet Gray; it's a delicious read.) Doubles from $199. Casa Marina Resort & Beach Club, 1500 Reynolds Street, Key West, Florida, 866-397-6342; casamarinaresort.com.
